

WONDERFUL

Is This a "Male Helen Keller," a Lad 12 Years Old, Deaf, Dumb and Blind.

A most wonderful exhibition was given Saturday afternoon in the Missouri School for the Blind by a phenomenal boy, known as the "male Helen Keller," says the St. Louis Star.

George Lee, 12 years old, deaf and blind, and formerly dumb, an inmate of the school, was the subject, and Mrs. A. Mulot, a French teacher of the blind, gave the demonstration. Mrs. Mulot, whose home is in France, has been in St. Louis during the fair, and has devoted a great deal of time to the blind and deaf pupils in the World's Fair dormitory. She has been teaching "George" as he is familiarly called, for some weeks. Under her tutelage the boy has made phenomenal progress, and his achievements are said to be second only to those of Helen Keller.

The demonstrations were witnessed by a large number of St. Louis persons interested in this sort of work, and they were amazed. Were it not for the facts that Miss Keller has been known to do, the achievements of little George Lee would have been almost past belief.

The demonstration lasted for an hour and a half. George read from the Bible and from other books, wrote a number of pages, spoke quite audibly and distinctly, described a dozen objects placed in his hands, told their names and half a hundred other things. He has been in the Missouri school for some time, and will remain there for some years, but it is the intention of those interested in him to see that he has every opportunity of development.

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY.

Wiles-Erman Drug Co. will pay back your money if Pepsikola fails to cure dyspepsia. "Never in the history of this store," said one of the above druggists to a representative of a wholesale drug house, "has there been so great a demand for a new remedy as there is just now for Pepsikola."

"Newark people are coming in every day inquiring if it really is true that we sell Pepsikola with the understanding it will cure dyspepsia or pay back the money. Of course this guarantee plan is quite unusual but we do just as we agree and we will hand back your quarter without the least argument if you are not decidedly benefited." "As a matter of fact," continued the druggist, "not one person in fifty has asked for their money, and I may surprise you to know that at least a dozen within the last ten days have been in to tell us how much they have been relieved, and how glad they are to know at last there is a remedy that really will cure indigestion and dyspepsia."

Pepsikola braces up and tones every nerve and fibre, helps digest the food, puts new life into the digestive organs, improves the appetite, clears up the complexion, cures biliousness, dizzy spells, coated tongue and sick headache.

Try it for ten days and if you don't see a big improvement step in and tell Wiles-Erman Drug Co., and they will hand back your quarter cheerfully and without argument.

HURBAUGH TRANSFER AND STORAGE COMPANY.

Why store your household and other goods in an old frame building liable to catch fire, and infested with rats and other vermin, when you can store with us, in our new clean brick store, near canal on west side of Fourth street, fitted up specially with a view of being free from vermin of all kinds, fireproof, with elevators for hoisting and lowering goods, and good competent and careful men who are experienced in such business to handle such goods, and especially constructed vans to transfer such goods. We make a specialty in transferring handling and caring for all kinds of valuable goods and property, and owners of such goods can rest assured that in our transfer and storage the goods will not be scarred or injured when taken out or infested with bed bugs or other vermin, or eaten by rats and mice.

SMART GOWNS

Not Listed by a Society Woman, So the Appraisers Compelled Her to Pay $700 Duty.

New York, Nov. 17.—Omitting to declare a lot of handsome dresses when she arrived on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse after a long stay abroad, Mrs. Arthur Caton, a well-known society woman of Chicago, paid duty on them later amounting to nearly $700.

Mrs. Caton came from Europe to attend the horse show, and her trunks contained some "stunning" costumes fresh from Paris. To the customs official who took her declaration she did not mention these gowns, so when an inspector began to delve into her large trunks he immediately called an appraiser. The matter was satisfactorily adjusted by the payment of the duty.

About this time last year Mrs. Caton arrived from abroad for the horse show, bringing a large number of trunks, declared as "value unknown." Four of these she kept for the horse show, sending the remainder to Chicago under bond, where four figures were paid later.

One seizure was made by customs officials on the pier. The value was small, and the goods would still belong to Heinrich Steeger of Lawrence, Mass., had they not been discovered under a false bottom in a trunk. There was a red shawl and some embroidery and ornaments, valued by an appraiser at $30.

EPISCOPAL

Bishop of Kentucky is Dr. C. E. Woodcock—Choice Made After a Long Session.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 17.—After a session lasting 10 hours, during the course of which 12 ballots were taken, the diocesan council elected Dr. Charles Edward Woodcock of Detroit Protestant Episcopal bishop of Kentucky. The election of Dr. Woodcock came in the nature of a surprise, as his name was only proposed after hours had been spent in fruitless balloting, with Dr. Frank De Moulins of Chicago and Dr. W. T. Manning of New York as the leading candidates. At one time Dr. De Moulins lacked only one vote of securing the necessary majority of both laymen and clergy. Dr. Woodcock is at present rector of St. John's church, Detroit. He is a New Yorker by birth.

By Constable in Lima—Bank President is Required to Give a Bigger Bond.

Lima, O., Nov. 17.—When the time for the set preliminary hearings in the charges against President W. W. Leighton and Cashier Charles H. Churchill of the defunct Lima Savings Bank and Trust company arrived, Mr. Leighton was not present. Word was whispered that he was at the Pennsylvania depot, and after a mad run of six blocks Constable Dan Miller caught the president just as the train on which he expected to take passage whistled for Lima. The constable served notice on Mr. Leighton that he was wanted, and more, that his bond was now considered insufficient. Where Mr. Leighton was going was not learned.

When the cases against the two well-known business men were called attorneys for both asked continuances. These were granted, Mr. Leighton to appear this afternoon and Mr. Churchill next Monday. The bond of the latter was placed at $500, and was immediately given, while that of Mr. Leighton was raised to $1,000, which he had not at his hour secured, more than the security of himself, wife and father-in-law, J. N. Dewey, of Toledo. He has not, however, been placed in confinement, but is expected to give additional bond.

It develops that Mr. Leighton was prominently identified with the Sandusky Southwestern Electric Railway, which passed into a receivership in Wapakoneta yesterday. Mr. Leighton asserts that he is a loser by the failure and not a beneficiary. The depositors are hard to control, and Rev. Father Rupert, pastor of St. John's church, who is a personal loser, as well as having church funds and those of his flock, took upon himself the duty of employing special counsel in behalf of the prosecution.

OIL BOOM

IS ENJOYED BY THE VILLAGE OF BLADENSBURG.

Several Companies Paying $5 to $6 an Acre for Leases—Several Wells Going Down.

Bladensburg, which is situated just over the Licking county line in Knox county, is enjoying quite an oil boom. The McKee well which was drilled recently, one mile southeast of the village, has proven an excellent one, both in quality and quantity. Another well is being drilled on the Blyston farm, one-half mile north of the village, and is down about 800 feet, while a derrick is being built for another well on the Hall farm one-half mile west of the McKee well. Several different companies are on the ground leasing land which has run as high as five and six dollars per acre.

Bladensburg is 14 miles from Mt. Vernon, 20 miles from Newark, and 24 miles from Coshocton, and is without any railroad facilities. It is not improbable that a branch railroad track will be built from Gambler 9 miles north to the village. The county is level and the cost of building the road would be comparatively small, while the freight and passenger traffic would be quite heavy.

LEWISOHN

Promises to Tell All He Knows About Canfield if He is Assured Protection.

New York, Nov. 17.—Jessie Lewisoohn will tell all he knows about the happenings in Richard Canfield's gambling house in East Fifty-fifth street. But his attorney, Alfred Lauterbach, intimated that his client would not be found to be the star witness the district attorney evidently thinks he is.

Although Mr. Lauterbach has not been officially informed that an opinion has been handed down and has not seen a copy of it, he said he was at most sure the court must have included in its decision immunity from prosecution for his client.

"It is only reasonable to suppose," he added, "that Mr. Lewisoohn will be protected from punishment if he goes on the stand. The point at issue is not that Mr. Lewisoohn has been trying to shield anybody, but that he has wished to be assured of protection from a very elastic felony act. Everybody who plays cards for money is a felon in the sight of the law, you know. How few persons there are upon whose heads it doesn't bear heavily."

District Attorney Jerome said that he was not worrying over future developments, as present details of the case were being worked out nicely. It was said in the criminal court building that with the Court of Appeals decision in his favor, the district attorney will be able to get evidence against Canfield from several other persons, should Mr. Lewisoohn's testimony be insufficient.

Philip J. Ert, counsel for Canfield, refused to discuss the decision of the Court of Appeals. He said:

"Mr. Canfield is in the city. There is no reason why he should go away. We are ready to meet any attack."

CAN TAKE

His Son to the Big Show. But Must Give Him Back to His Mother by November 26.

Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 17.—He wanted to take his son to the World's Fair, and in order to have the wish gratified it was necessary for Paul Douglass to fight a long and tedious legal battle in the courts.

Such is the epitome of the most unusual case ever brought in the courts of Indiana, and perhaps in the country.

Douglass is divorced. His son has been in the custody of the mother. Douglass wished to take the boy to St. Louis, where he could be shown the sights at the big exposition. But the mother objected.

Therupon Douglass petitioned the local court for permission to take the boy from the mother for a length of time sufficient to make the journey. Then came the legal fight. As the petition had been filed in the early summer and the case was only decided yesterday by Judge Claybaugh some idea can be gleaned of the bitterness with which the mother contested the case.

While Judge Claybaugh decided that Mr. Douglass could take his son on the trip he added a proviso, namely: "The boy must be returned to the mother's custody not later than November 26."

WIFE

Need Not Repay Money She Borrowed For Husband's Benefit Says the High Court.

Indianapolis, Nov. 17.—In the case of Marilda E. Field vs. John A. Campbell, the Supreme court holds that a married woman cannot be held on a contract to repay money she borrowed for her husband's benefit unless the lender tried to find out what she wanted with the money, and unless she deceived him as to her purpose. In the case decided the wife told the lender that she wanted the money for her own use, but he was her husband's uncle. The husband was in danger of prosecution for embezzlement of money that came into his hands as treasurer of Washington county. He died soon after the loan to his wife was made, and she disputed the validity of the uncle's mortgage on her property.

The Supreme court says that if the lender had used ordinary vigilance he would have known that the money was borrowed to pay the husband's debts, although the wife assured him it was not.

TESTIMONY

GIVEN AT INQUEST IN WEBER MURDER MYSTERY

At Auburn, Calif., Wednesday Night, Was Sensational—One Important Witness Thursday.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 17.—Sensational testimony was given at the adjourned session of the coroner's inquest in the Weber murder mystery last night. Not more than 48 hours before found dead at the hands of an assassin, Mrs. Julius Weber, mother of Adolph, the lad accused of the shocking crime committed Thursday, said to her sister:

"Adolph is so mean and hateful that I am afraid of him. I'm afraid he will kill all of us some days."

The morning after, the mother, father, sister and brother were done to death, Adolph Weber visited the home of his aunt, Mrs. E. C. Snowden. He displayed a clipping from a newspaper that intimated that he had committed the crime. Waving the paper and brandishing his hat in his aunt's face Adolph cried out that she was responsible for the accusation, then said fiercely: "You have done this, and your turn will come next!"

This startling testimony was given by Mrs. Snowden near the close of the evening session. She said: "Adolph was mean and hateful. His mother feared him greatly and time and again she feared that he would do something terrible. Members of the family feared him. Many times he struck his baby brother, a poor imbecile child, with his clenched fist."

For half an hour Mrs. Snowden told fact after fact, each one more damning than the last, until the culmination came in the words above.

One more witness will be examined today. This witness is expected to give evidence connecting young Weber with the purchase of a pistol.

BY REBELS

Chinese Troops Routed and Important Towns Captured—A Shanghai Report.

London, Nov. 17.—A dispatch from Shanghai reports that the rebels have repulsed the imperial troops at Luichouenou, in the province of Kwangsi, southern China. They have captured Yuenhsien, Tiedhosien, Lo-chengshien, Hualienhsien and Liuchen, five of the principal towns in the province. The merchants and bankers fled from the towns. Choufu, former governor of the province of Shantung, who was recently appointed viceroy at Nanking, has been ordered to proceed immediately to his post and to take measures to check the rebels in the Yangtze valley.

Shipwrecked Crew Picked Up. Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—After having been lashed to a mast for more than 24 hours, Captain Fisher and crew of seven men of the brig C. C. Sweeney were taken from their perilous position by the steamer Hawaiian, from Honolulu for this port. The men suffered greatly from exposure to the weather, but are apparently no worse for their experience. The brig left Charleston early last week for Philadelphia with a cargo of lumber and encountered the southern hurricane off the Virginia coast. The brig withstood the terrific wind and sea for a short time only, and then became waterlogged. The deck load and houses were swept away, and the vessel finally broke in two.

West Virginia Strike. Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 17.—Several thousand miners are now on strike in the Kanawha coal fields and about 75 mines are tied up. The miners will hold a meeting here to decide how they shall meet the situation. The operators are employing nonunion men to fill the places of striking miners. John Nugent, president of district No. 17, United Mine Workers of America, issued a statement in which he denied the allegations of the Kanawha coal operators that the mine workers would not submit the question of dispute to arbitration, according to the agreement of last May.

A CASE OF IT.

Many More Like It in Newark.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Newark. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence.

Mrs. George Graft of 25 Spencer street says: "I had a terrible bad back which successfully resisted all efforts in the way of medicines and porous plasters to relieve it. It was just across the loins where the greatest strain falls so that I could not get up when I was down. I awakened in the morning scarcely able to shift my body. As I moved about at my household work I was often in actual torture. For three months I suffered all the time until one day a neighbor gave me a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills. I took them and the benefit was so apparent I sent down to Crayton's drug store and procured a box. Before very long I discarded the plasters, the kidney secretions looked clear and natural and had not a pain in my head and back."

Indians Starving.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 17.—Indian Agent Charles E. Schell of Pala and Charles F. Lumis, the well known author, have spent six days among the Indians on the Campora reservation in this county. They say that there are nearly 200 Indians, hard working, intelligent farming people. No rain has fallen to start the seed planted and the unfortunates are now subsisting chiefly upon acorns. "Unless relief comes," said Mr. Lumis, "all the Indians will be dead before New Year's day."

Congratulate Vice President-Elect.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—Political aspirations and affiliations were forgotten when several hundred representative men of both Republican and Democratic parties assembled at the Commercial club to congratulate Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, vice president-elect. John W. Kern, Democratic nominee for governor, sat side by side with Senator Albert J. Beveridge and Senator Fairbanks, and the combination added enthusiasm when the leaders of the two parties engaged in friendly political repartee.

Murder and Robbery.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 17.—Among the ruins of his burned home the body of John R. Perkins was found by neighbors. The head was crushed and the body dismembered. The condition of the body and the current report that Perkins was in the habit of keeping large sums of money about the house has led the police to believe that Perkins was murdered. He had been ill for several days.

Austria and Peace Conference.

Budapest, Hungary, Nov. 17.—In the lower house of the Hungarian diet Count Albert Apponyi interpellated Premier Tisza regarding the attitude of the new government and Austrian foreign office toward President Roosevelt's proposal to hold another peace conference at The Hague. Premier Tisza in reply said that any endeavor to lessen the horrors of war would be sympathetically received and supported by the factors in the foreign policy of Austria-Hungary. "Nevertheless," the premier said, "such action can only meet with success if all the great powers associate themselves therewith. Unfortunately the present moment does not happen to be favorable to this."

King Charles Dined.

London, Nov. 17.—The state banquet at Windsor castle in honor of King Charles and Queen Amelie of Portugal equalled in brilliancy the previous magnificent functions at which European rulers have been the guests of Great Britain reigning monarchs in the historic St. George's hall. The guests included members of the royal family, foreign representatives at the court of St. James, cabinet ministers, leaders of the opposition, military and naval officials and others prominent in the highest circles of Great Britain. King Edward and King Charles responded to toasts, each alluding to the Anglo-Portuguese arbitration treaty, which has just been signed.

Mill Situation.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 17.—There is no practical change in the mill situation. The mills generally started up short-handed on Monday and Tuesday, and a number of them continue to run. The manufacturers claim to have made slight gains over the first two days of the week, but these claims are not admitted by the labor leaders.

Fray at an Indian School.

Riverside, Cal., Nov. 17.—In a row among pupils at the Indian school at Banning, Charles Colby was hit on the head with a pistol and in return he shot and killed Tom Bucanoros and wounded Fred Smith. Smith will probably die. All are young Indians. Colby was brought here and lodged in the county jail, charged with murder.

Emperor William Not Ill.

Berlin, Nov. 17.—The rumors of a recurrence of Emperor William's throat malady and the necessity for another operation are received with the greatest incredulity in court, medical and other well informed circles in Berlin. The emperor's daily course of life is such as to almost in itself give the lie to the report.

Gun Burst.

Versailles, O., Nov. 17.—Harmon Wolf, 14, was fatally hurt while hunting. His gun burst, terribly lacerating his scalp, face and hands.

Indicted For Negligence.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 17.—W. B. Caldwell of this city, who at the time admitted his responsibility for the terrible wreck on the Southern railroad near Newmarket, Tenn., early in September, in which 62 lives were lost, has been indicted by the grand jury of Jefferson county, Tenn., for criminal negligence. Caldwell was conductor of the westbound passenger train, which overran its orders to meet the eastbound passenger train at Newmarket, and crashed into the eastbound train a few miles west of Newmarket.

Colored Boy Hanged.

Wethersfield, Conn., Nov. 17.—Joseph Watson, 18, the colored boy who murdered Henry Osborn of Hartford last August, paid the penalty for his crime when he was put to death by hanging on the gallows in the state prison.

Fast Mile of Lou Dillon.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 17.—Lou Dillon trotted a mile in 2:01 1/4. The time by quarters: 30 1/2, 59 1/2, 1:29, 2:01 1/4. The time made last Friday was 2:01.

Union of Protestant Churches.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 17.—One of the most important meetings in the history of the Protestant churches in this country will be held in New York city in November, 1905. The question of the union of the Protestant churches of all denominations will be the chief topic of discussion at this conference, at which delegates from the Baptist, Lutheran, Protestant Episcopal, Methodist and other churches will be present.

Plot Story Untrue.

New York, Nov. 17.—The Panama consulate in this city received a dispatch from President Manuel Amador which read: "Deny reports of disorder or plot." This message was sent in contradiction of the reports which reached Washington on Tuesday to the effect that the enemies of President Amador were conspiring to overthrow him and that they control the balance of the $10,000,000 which the United States still owes Panama for the canal rights.

Double Hanging.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 17.—Will Bellers and Dave Brown, negroes, convicted in Bladen county in October of the murder of Mrs. George Parker near Clarkton, N. C., early in September, were hanged on a double gallows in the jailyard at Elizabethtown. Both protested their innocence.

Wm. H. Grenfell, M. P., now prominent as a tariff reformer, has played many parts, though still quite a young man. He is the beau ideal of British athletics, having distinguished himself at cricket, as oarsman, as a pedestrian, as a mountain climber and as a hunter of big game. He has climbed the Alps, shot in the Rockies and the Himalayas, swam twice across Niagara and was struck of a racing eight that crossed the English channel.

AMERICAN

Marksmen Are the Best—Target Practice Such as Would be Valuable to the Japs.

Always a standard of excellence commanding attention alike at home and abroad, the most recent exhibitions of marksmanship in our navy are particularly noteworthy not alone because of the remarkable results attained, but when taken in connection with developments in the far East, says the Detroit Free Press.

The battleship Missouri, as a result of recent trials, now holds the world's daylight record for target-shooting with big guns, scoring four clean hits out of a like number of chances with its 12-inch guns, and repeating the performance with its 6-inch guns. Even more surprising was the showing made by night, the day's record being duplicated in each instance under precisely the same conditions as regards speed and distance.

The trials of the 12-inch guns were made while the ship was speeding along outside Sandy Hook at a rate of twelve knots an hour, the targets being on average of 2,500 yards away. The same rate and distance were maintained in the trials by day and night, two bull's-eyes being scored during the former proceeding and three at night. With the 6-inch gun ten knots was the speed, the target being 6,000 yards distant, and in each case the bull's-eye was hit four times in the four shots fired.

Had Admiral Togo's fleet been manned by American gunners it is not difficult to conceive what the fate of the Russians would have been ere this. The sally from Port Arthur would have resulted in a disaster such as befell Admiral Cervera's fleet at Santiago, and the Russian naval prestige in Asiatic waters would have left the Japanese untrammelled in their operations on the seas.

On the other hand, had the Port Arthur fleet possessed gunners whose ability approached that displayed by those on our ships even the caution displayed by Admiral Togo in remaining at a distance from the Russian vessels would have counted for little, and his partial victory would have been turned into a crushing defeat. Credit must be given the men who fought so heroically in this and subsequent engagements, but their courage was insufficient to offset the inefficiency of their fire, and marked the results as disappointing compared with what might have been achieved with such gun crews as those possessed by the Missouri.

CHARGES

PREFERRED AGAINST INSPECTORS AT GRAND HAVEN.

Alleged a Sunken Scow was Raised and Reported to be Properly Equipped.

Washington, Nov. 17—As a result of the recently ordered investigations into the steamboat inspection service, charges have been preferred with the secretary of commerce and labor against the local inspectors at Grand Haven, Mich., which is in the Detroit District, the investigation of which is being conducted by Rear Admiral W. L. Field. It is charged that, in order to bring up the number of inspected vessels to that required to carry the inspectors into a higher class—salaries being regulated by the number of vessels inspected—the inspectors in question raised an old sunken scow that has been lying near Grand Haven for several years and reported it as a properly equipped and inspected vessel. The inspector in charge at Detroit was acquainted with the facts and has brought the charges in question.

NO WITNESS

TO THE SHOOTING OF "CAESAR" YOUNG LAST JUNE.

Nan Patterson Very Hopeful of Acquittal—Four Jurymen in the Box Thursday Morning.

New York Nov. 17—Four jurors sat in the box this morning when the trial of Nan Patterson, the actress, charged with killing "Caesar" Young, the bookmaker, was resumed before Justice Vernon Davis. It is expected that the jury box will be filled before the examination of witnesses is concluded today. The admission made yesterday by assistant district attorney Rand in examining a witness that the state would not be able to produce a single eye-witness to the shooting has given the young actress renewed confidence in her acquittal. Her lawyers, Levy, Unger and O'Reilly, have never given any intimation at any time that they thought there would be any difficulty in clearing the girl of the charges, and the opinion that the state will never be able to make out a perfect circumstantial case is almost unanimous among those in attendance at the trial.

The work of completing the jury was resumed this morning when court opened. The defendant, dressed in the same black dress which she wore yesterday sat beside her father and took a keen interest in the examination of witnesses. When ever Miss Patterson disapproves of a witness who is satisfactory to both counsel her lawyer promptly reject the man.

PRETTY GIRL

Will Wheel a Pumpkin in Irishman's Gig, in Discharge of an Election Bet.

Elwood, Ind., Nov. 17.—Miss Cleve Decker, one of the fairest young women of Curtisville and a high school student, will pay a unique election bet next Saturday.

She was an advocate of Parker in the recent election and made several bets with her young lady friends of the neighborhood. One of these was to the effect that the loser should trundle a wheelbarrow containing the largest pumpkin that could be found from Curtisville to Cedar Corner, the first station on the traction line of three miles. The trip will be made Saturday, while the friends of the loser will follow in carriages and witness the fulfillment of the bet.

BENJ. HOSLER

Aged Citizen of Summit Station Buried at Columbus Center—News From Summit.

Summit Station, O., Nov. 17.—Mr. Benjamin Hosler, one of the pioneer residents of Licking county, passed away at the home of his niece, Mrs. Nancy Bswine, one mile east of this place, after an illness of some time, of the disease incident to old age, he being in the 84th year of his age. The deceased leaves one daughter at Murray City, O., and one son at Marion, O. The funeral was held at Columbus Center, this morning at 10:30 o'clock, and the interment was made in the Pataaskala cemetery. The deceased was at one time one of the leading merchants of Columbus Center, and had lived many years in that village, but since the death of his wife two years ago he has been making his home with his children and his niece, where he spent his last days. At the recent election he remarked that he was the oldest voter in Lima township and Mr. Thomas Neel is two years his senior, being in the 81st year of his age, and is probably the oldest voter in Licking county.

William Haynes, a farmer living on the Jersey and Summit road was awakened Monday morning by his wife making a curious noise. On investigation Mrs. Haynes was found unconscious. A physician was hastily summoned, but she remained in an unconscious condition nearly all day Monday. The attending physician pronounced it an epileptic stroke.

The Republicans who are going around bragging that he Democratic party has been crushed for ever and "wiped out for all time" would do well to recollect that there have been a few other land-slides in this country, and that the Democracy has experienced greater defeats only to pull itself together and vanquish its brag-gart foe.

There is a large number of Democrats throughout the country who rejoice to hear above the "general rumblings of disaster" the triumphant clection of Joseph W. Folk as Governor of Missouri. Incidentally it may be remarked that we have heard a few suggestions of Folk for President in 1903, but there is plenty of time to consider that matter.

The suggestion that the United States should intervene in the war between Russia and Japan "in the interest of humanity" does not come with good grace from a Secretary of State who permitted two republics in South Africa to perish from the face of the earth by refusing to respond to the general demand of the American people for intervention. We believe "humanity" was more concerned about these two republics and their brave people than about all the subjects of Czar or Mikado.

Punishment by Demand.
A conspicuous case of international demand for the punishment of violation of neutrality at sea was that made by Brazil of the United States government in 1864, when the Federal gunboat Wachusett attacked the Confederate cruiser Florida at Bahia. A Brazilian corvet took station between the belligerents to enforce neutrality, but the captain of the Wachusett, under pretense of an accident, ran his ship past the corvet at night and with a full head of steam on crashed into the Florida. Finding that the cruiser did not sink, he opened fire and caused her to surrender. The emperor of Brazil immediately demanded reparation, the captain was court martialed, and the United States consul at Bahia, who had advised the outrage, was summarily dismissed. Furthermore, the Brazilian flag was saluted at the scene of the attack, the captured crew released, and the cruiser would have been surrendered to the Confederacy for the fact that she had been accidentally sunk in Hampton Roads, where she was held as a prize of war.

TEAS AFTER VICTORY.

Japanese Commanders as Hosts at Liaoyang.

GUESTS WERE FROM ALL NATIONS

Vanda of the Feast Were Left Behind by the Russians—Nothing Lacking but Tea—Japanese Soldiers as Conjurors and Gelsa Dancers. Scene in Kuropatkin's Garden.

Germans spoke in French and English, Americans mingled these with Japanese, the Japanese used all three, the Austrian and the Swiss, having no special tongue, employed each, except Japanese, as required; the French avoided German, yet condescended to English when it was sociable to do so, but the English stuck to English. There was in consequence a babel of conversation in the marquee which had been built for General Oku's afternoon tea in an open space of the Russian part of Liaoyang, lately taken by Japanese arms at a cost of more than 20,000 men, says the New York Post's special correspondent, writing from the imperial headquarters of the Japanese army in the field at Liaoyang.

At the start there had been very little conversation. After Oku's staff set on the tables fresh caviare, stoffen, excellently cooked beef, stuffed veal, lamb chops, tinned salmon, bologna and salads and some thing in gelatin, and especially after Chateau la Rose, champagne, Nippon beer, Glenlivet, Russian mineral water, Russian coffee, Egyptian cigarettes, Manila cigars and matches made in Milan had been passed along the linen covered tables garnished with flowers a la Japonaise in exploded Russian shrapnel shells, there seemed to be plenty to talk about and almost a sufficiency of languages. Leaving out the salads, all these comestibles, as well as the linen and the crystal, had been left by the Russians, who retreated from Liaoyang about 1 o'clock on the morning of Sept. 4.

Costumes of hosts and guests were of infinite variety. In color they were confined to different shades of khaki, different shades of blue, and—among the correspondents—different sorts of whipcord, flannel and cravenette. Austria showed a cobalt blue coat and a cap of exaggerated height; Canada a greenish buff coat, with a cap of over-spreading dangles; India a snug khaki, with many belts and straps; France a black glazed cap and a "Confederate gray" coat that looked like Russian; America a campaign hat and khaki the hue of grass on an autumn hillside after the first frost; England showed a khaki which you are familiar with; Spain a sky blue; France a similar coat and a sun helmet. In the middle of these moved Japanese adjutants in dark blue, tasseled gold sashes down the breast; staff officers in dark blue with gold shoulder knots, those of the cavalry having breeches and boots of the fine color and glaze you see in Meissonier's paintings; General Oku in blue, with almost no decoration except the great blazing ruby centered order of the Chrysanthemum; Prince Nasimoto in woolen khaki absolutely untrammelled beyond a captain's silver on the sleeve. The prince might have been from his uniform, taken for a "war correspondent," as they style in England correspondents who follow armies, only that your real war correspondent wears a long row of decorations over his left hand breast pocket.

Nothing was lacking in the general's tea except tea. Had it not been for the vaudeville entertainment which ran through the ceremony and the grievous absence of women you would have thought it a military wedding breakfast. Vaudeville included Japanese conjuring of the sort you have seen at well known American theaters—mysteries, eastern; a dozen handkerchiefs borrowed from the spectators, initiated by them, and burned before their eyes to tinder, yet at the click of a fan are found wound about the body of the assistant who has not been near the conjurer, etc. Then brief farcical improvised "skits," the "Trick of a Cook" by a versatile newspaper interpreter, Nakimura (champion Japanese cyclist), and "Influence of Music," which was geisha dancing by the conjurer and his second; a puppet show, in which Japanese dexterity with feet and toes was exhibited; "Old Native Sport," a sort of broadsword contest with staves, the soldiers wearing about their foreheads red or white ribbons as in "Ben-Hur's" chariot race; then a photograph of the party by the official army photographer; then "A Strange Dance," also improvised, and also by the talented newspaper interpreter; a soldier dressed as a geisha came on the stage, and the piece could not go on for the applause which the sight of a woman's apparel excited; then more magic and "dancing," this last an old fashioned quadrille, in which the American and the English and the missionized Japanese and the Chinese girl appeared in witty caricature, having for partners travesties of the Indian and German and other officers. There was a great similarity between the American girl and the English; both looked like the elderly Englishwomen you find traveling in pairs in Switzerland and Italy.

In one week we have had two teas, which, on account of what those luxurious Russians left behind, could hardly be bettered in infinitely better places. The other tea—a precise military correspondent would have mentioned it first—was at the field marshal's. He occupies the house which Kuropatkin vacated. In the parade ground just in front there are two great ragged holes, torn by six inch shells from the Canet guns captured from the Russians at Nanshan. Each hole could contain three horses. Close to the rail of Kuropatkin's garden is a railway siding and a cloth covered shelter under which his private car waited during those fierce five days of battle. He slept in it and ate in it when he had time and at last, scarcely fifty minutes before the Japanese had the whole position, departed in it for Mukden.

His garden, where Field Marshal Okuma gave the other remarkable tealess tea, was filled with American plants. Four o'clocks climbed the fence, beds of dahlias, of red geraniums, bushes of American Beauties, decorated the lawn. "These remind us of home," one of us said to the field marshal. He replied, "I think they were grown for your pleasure," and laughed pleasantly. He is taller than any of his officers. His face is kindly, that of a generous spirited man who has lived healthfully. The field marshal himself served bouillon in thin cups, salads and cold mutton and caviare sandwiches and cigars and other captured refections, as if eager for the pleasure of his guests, and the juggling and "soldier magic" he provided afterward he enjoyed like a boy. I hardly know whom to compare him with that you may understand him. Imagine what in America is called an old fashioned gentleman, having, instead of primness and austerity, a boy's spirits, and you should have a fair picture. Some London correspondent wrote of him as "a commonplace general," another that he was "not a Napoleon," to both of which remarks, by the way, the censor objected, till the writer said he would quit the army and forward the characterization from outside. I don't think the field marshal will care; his position as an influential nobleman suffices, and brilliancy of strategy is left to Kodama and brilliancy of execution to the generals of the armies. Generals may be jealous of one another, but none is jealous of him or his authority; and that is a useful qualification for a commander in chief.

Scotch and English and Irish airs were played by the band at both teas, and at the last the anthem of Japan. As ever, the melancholy note in that anthem gave one the same repeated apprehension. "Isn't it odd," said a French officer, when a "Fantasie Irlandaise" was being played, "that, although the Irish are the most light hearted of peoples, their music carries a feeling of wailing and mourning." It is of a sort with the songs of Japan—the cry of a banshee in the shadow.

Passing of the Army Blue.
A general order has been prepared at the war department in regard to the new uniform of the army, says a Washington special to the St. Louis Republic. Among other things, the order specifies that all troops serving in the United States, with the exception of the artillery, shall wear the olive drab as a service uniform and that officers shall also wear that uniform in garrisons. Artillery troops in the United States and troops of all arms in the Philippines shall wear the khaki service uniform, officers as well as enlisted men. The principal effect of this order is that it practically does away with the blue dress uniform now generally worn by officers at garrisons. In the future officers of the army will wear the olive drab uniform in the United States and the khaki service uniform in the Philippines.

REMARKABLE TIME MADE ON THE LAKE SHORE ROAD.

Lackawanna Will Not be Operated by Electricity—Deep Cut in Rate. Local and General News.

Toledo, O. Nov. 17.—Engineer Guyant pulling Lake Shore train No. 43 out of this city, made a phenomenal run between Toledo and Kendallville, a distance of 92 miles. The average rate of speed was 62 miles an hour, but the seven miles between Edgerton and Butler, was made in four minutes, which is at the rate of 135 miles an hour. The engineer, when asked about the run said:

"I didn't know we were going so fast. We had a heavy train, but the track was fine, and I did not know of the record until I returned home."

Only For Black Signals.
New York, Nov. 17.—At the offices of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad in this city, it was said that the story of the electrification of the Lackawanna system grew out of a new electric block system which has been established. A big electric generating plant is being put in at Elmira to furnish current now generated by cell batteries.

A Deep Cut.
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 17.—What amounts to a record-breaking cut in the St. Paul-Chicago rate was made by the Wisconsin Central railroad when it announced a three dollar fare for the round trip from St. Paul to Chicago. This rate is made for the Minnesota Northwestern football game in Chicago next Saturday, and is good going on Friday and returning on Sunday.

As soon as the cut was made by the Wisconsin Central, the Chicago Great Western and the Minneapolis and St. Louis also came down to the three dollar rate. This fare does not include a sleeping car privilege, but the time limit is set so a daylight trip can be made.

Low Rate Made.
Chicago, Nov. 17.—W. E. Skinner, general manager of the International Live Stock Exposition, which takes place at the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, November 26 to December 3, announces that the railroads had granted a special rate of one cent a mile for excursion parties within a radius of 500 miles of Chicago to go into effect Tuesday, November 29. It is the first time on record that any organization outside of the Grand Army of the Republic has received a similar rate.

For visitors desiring to remain for the entire week a rate of one fare plus $1 will be given.

FIFTIETH

ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING OF MR. AND MRS. LARIMORE

All Members of the Family and Many Friends Join in Observing the Event.

The fiftieth anniversary, or golden wedding as it is usually regarded, of Mr. and Mrs. John Larimore, took place at their beautiful country home about one mile west of Union Station on Wednesday, November 16.

No married couple is better or more favorably known than Mr. and Mrs. Larimore or stands higher in the respect and confidence of the community than they do. It is only natural then that the golden wedding anniversary should be a complete and happy success in every particular. The celebration began at noon with a big dinner, at which over fifty guests sat down. Other guests kept arriving during the afternoon and in the evening a sumptuous supper was served. The afternoon and evening were passed in pleasant and social intercourse and a rare interchange of good feeling. All the members of the family were present except three grandchildren who reside at a considerable distance away. The actual date of this golden wedding should have been on the 9th, but on account of sickness in the family the anniversary was postponed until Wednesday, the 16th. Mr. and Mrs. Larimore were made the recipients of hearty congratulations and some handsome presents by their guests.

Hale and hearty in prosperity and happiness, surrounded by a large circle of relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Larimore are enjoying a green old age, and have the best wishes of their many friends for many years of happiness to come.

ROMANCE

OF THE INAUGURAL BALL AT COLUMBUS

Terminated Wednesday Night in a Wedding—Governor's Brother-in-Law Weds Miss Telford.

Columbus, O., Nov. 17.—The wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Telford, the beautiful daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Wilson Oliver Telford, to Mr. Benjamin Parmely, Jr. of Cleveland, which took place at St. Paul's Episcopal church last evening, aroused wide social interest.

Very elaborate preparations for the event were made, both at the house, which was the scene of a brilliant reception following the ceremony, and at the church. The colors of the wedding, carried out both in the decorations and in the gowns of the bridal party, were yellow and white.

Rev. John Hewitt performed the ceremony. Mr. Parmely and his best man, his nephew, Mr. Parmely Herick, met the procession at the altar steps. The bride was lovely in a gown of white chiffon cloth, decorated in lace. She wore a long lace veil fastened with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The Governor and Mrs. Herick have given the couple a dining room set of solid mahogany; Mr. Benjamin Parmely, Sr., gave a check for a grand piano. Mr. Parmely Herick gave a pair of handsome silver platters; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gray of Cleveland, gave a silver coffee service, and the list included many more presents.

Mr. Parmely as his wedding gift, presented the bride with a low knot of diamonds.

Miss Telford's wedding is the culmination of a romance begun at the inaugural reception of Governor Herick in January. There Mr. Parmely, the brother of the Governor's wife, was introduced to the beauties of Columbus, among them Miss Telford, who, all in white, was one of the loveliest pictures at the ball. He begged to be presented to her. He improved the acquaintance by frequent trips to Columbus.

Not a Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lame and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what E. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50c at Hall's Drug Store.

GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, O., Nov. 17.—An adjourned meeting of the village council was held Tuesday night with Messrs. Case, Hulshizer, J. D. Jones, J. M. Jones and Smoots present, with Mayor J. M. Swartz in the chair.

The following resolution was adopted: "That the village construct sidewalks along the property of Susan Grover on the north side of Elm street between the properties of Lucretia B. Smith and Emily D. Cole, and along the property of the same on the west side of Pearl street, and along the property of J. C. and E. Halliwell on the west side of Pearl street. Also on the north side of Broadway on a straight line from the east end of the sidewalk in front of the Methodist church to the west end of the brick sidewalk near the southwest corner of lot 126, the property owned from west to east by A. U. Thresher, Lucia B. Smith, Carter heirs, Pond and Robinson, J. M. Robinson, the Farmers' Bank Co., H. O. Wood, Jennie Kussmaul, Fred H. Buxton, C. M. Prior, and O. C. Jones.

A resolution to construct sidewalks in front of the property of Jane Evans (in front of the blacksmith shop) on Prospect street, and Dr. W. C. Davis on the west side of Cherry street, between Broadway and Elm streets, was also passed.

Council adjourned until next Tuesday night.

The union Thanksgiving services will be held in the Baptist church next Thursday morning. Rev. Dr. C. L. Work of the Presbyterian church, will preach the sermon.

On Wednesday evening, Mr. Oley Speaks, bass, gave a most delightful recital in Recital Hall at 8 o'clock. Mr. Speaks has an exceptionally fine and rich voice, and was enthusiastically received by his audience, which was an exceedingly appreciative one. Mr. Speaks was accompanied by Miss Emma Ebeling, whose rendition of his music was artistic, and added much to the success of Mr. Speaks' recital.

WEST END

SALOON DESTROYED BY FIRE ON THURSDAY MORNING.

Nearest Plug to E. White's Saloon Was 2000 Feet Away—Early Morning Blaze.

At 3 35 o'clock Thursday morning, engine company No. 2 located in West Newark, was notified that the frame building, which during the summer season was occupied by E. White as a saloon, east of Idlewild Park, was on fire. The Central department was called by three strokes of the big bell and the ladder truck was sent to the scene.

When the firemen arrived they discovered that they could not reach the fire, as the nearest plug was 2000 feet away, and the building was totally destroyed, including the contents consisting of bar fixtures and some furniture. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss will reach several hundred dollars, partially covered with insurance.

Mr. White closed his saloon about two weeks ago for the winter season.

Gault "Crazy Drunk" in Bergin's Saloon, Drew a Razor and Begon to Slash—Sent to Prison.

John Gault was arrested by Officer Sutton, assisted by "Red" Conley and "Deuce" Kelley for running amuck in Bergin's saloon on Walnut street. He went in the saloon and because Kelley refused to give him a drink drew a razor and slashed at him. Conley came to Kelley's assistance and Gault then attempted to cut him. He was finally arrested after a struggle and taken to the city prison. Thursday morning he told the Mayor that he must have been crazy drunk. He was fined $25 and costs and committed to the city prison.

George Jones, a negro, who was arrested on complaint of a man named Bennett, bartender for Embery Bros., on Union street, was discharged. Bennett claimed that Jones had threatened to shoot him.

Two strangers giving the names of Frank Miller and James Dillon were arrested by Officer Swank on a charge of prowling and begging on the street. They were fined $15 and costs and committed to the county jail.

Drew a Gun on Two Men Who Tried to Steal His Full Dinner Pail at Black Lick.

Summit Station, Nov. 17.—Sunday evening, as U. M. Salts, night operator at Black Lick, was on his way to work walking on the railroad between this place and Black Lick he passed two men who were standing on the track. After he had passed them one of the men called out to him and asked him what he had in his bucket. Mr. Salts informed them that it was filled with grub. "Just what we are after," said one of the men and then they both started towards him. Mr. Salts, nothing daunted, pulled his gun and called on them to halt, which they did, and beat a hasty retreat.

BIG OIL STRIKE

Woodsfield Well Comes in Twenty Barrels an Hour—Four Big Wells on Small Tract.

Woodsfield, O., Nov. 17.—The oil excitement in this district has been increased by the strike of the Mooney Oil company's well, No. 2, on the Sheets farm, which came in Tuesday night with a flow of 20 barrels an hour, coming from the lime sand. With four wells on a quarter of an acre on this farm the daily average is reported now to be 2,200 barrels.

The recent big oil strike and the location of oil purchasing agencies here greatly facilitating business, has greatly stimulated the oil industry in this neighborhood and prospecting is lively.

CATHOLIC

Church Property at Columbus Exempt From Taxation is the Decision of Judge Evans.

Columbus, O., Nov. 17.—The Roman Catholic church is an institution of purely public charity and therefore no property belonging to the church aside from vacant lots should be included on the tax duplicate, was the finding of Judge Evans, in Common Pleas court, in deciding the suit filed by the late Bishop Watterson against Auditor Balliday, April 16, 1898. The case was referred to George B. Oky, as master, several years ago. He found that the church was not an institution of purely public worship and therefore some property should be taxed. Judge Evans holds that the master erred. All the property belonging to the church is in the name of the Bishop of the diocese and the plaintiff urged that the property was all used for church purposes and not for profit, which rendered it exempt from taxation. A permanent injunction was granted.

PROFITS

Of Van Wyck's Latest Realty Deal Netted Him Over Half a Million Dollars.

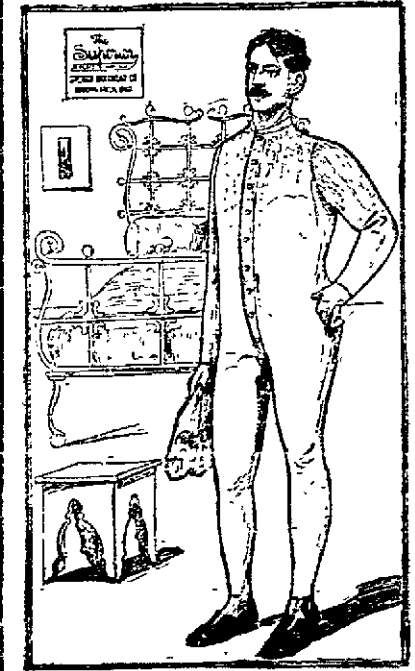

New York, Nov. 17.—Former Mayor Van Wyck is credited with having added $500,000 to his already great fortune in the last six weeks by deals in Bronx realty. Mr. Van Wyck's fortune is now estimated at $5,000,000 although he himself refuses to name the figures. It is known that he has been highly successful in Wall street.

In the Bronx realty deals he was interested with John P. Carroll and other Tammany politicians. Heavy purchases of property were made before the completion of the subway, and in the recent big rise in values a great profit was made. Van Wyck wanted to sell out although his companions in the deal declared for holding on. He said it was all right for the men who were with him in the deal and were married to hold the property for their children, but for him, a bachelor, the cash was better than dead land. The others yielded to his wishes.

Since retiring from the Mayor's office Mr. Van Wyck has devoted much of his time to Wall street, and through influential connection in the financial world is said to have cleared large profits on many deals. In 1869 he was a clerk at a salary of $12 a week.

The Portia SHOE

The Secret of Attractive Feet

Ordinary shoes soon lose their shape and make the feet look bad. The Portia Shoe, the new shoe for women, is built to hold its shape—built on lines exclusively its own.

It is an artistic conception from last to lace. Only the best material is used; only the highest class labor employed.

More real value goes into the Portia than in many shoes costing twice as much.

They are low priced because, being manufactured in great quantities, it is possible to exercise many economies beyond the reach of the average manufacturer.

If you want a shoe that you know is absolutely correct in style—a dream of grace, beauty and elegance, let us sell you the Portia.

CONGRESS

WILL BE ASKED TO IMPROVE THE CHIO RIVER.

Over 300 Delegates at the Ohio Valley Improvement Association Meeting in Huntington.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 17.—There are over 300 delegates and many visitors attending the sessions of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association. The commercial organizations of 50 municipalities are represented. Addresses of welcome were delivered by the governor and mayor, with responses. The annual address of President John Vance occupied most of the session, and it referred to topics of various matters. The annual report of Secretary J. F. Ellison showed that the six states bordering on the Ohio river had paid into the association during the past nine years $47,815, of which $45,699 had been expended. The association this year would ask of congress in appropriations for improving the Ohio river $10,320,000, and for tributaries to the Ohio $12,439,000.

Two Wrecks and Two Fatalities. Wellston, O., Nov. 17.—Two wrecks occurred in the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton yards here, resulting in the loss of two lives and seriously injuring two men. Spreading rails wrecked a coal train. Fireman William Blevins being killed. The second wreck occurred near Superior No. 6 mine, a trestle giving way and allowing the engine and several cars to drop down the embankment. Engineer Thomas Richards was killed and Fireman John Burns and brakeman Zacharia Deckard were seriously injured.

American Anti-Saloon League. Columbus, O., Nov. 17.—Twenty-seven states are represented at the ninth annual session of the American Anti-Saloon League, now in convention here. Wayne B. Wheeler, superintendent of the Ohio league, extended the greetings of the league herepresented, and responses were made by Rev. L. M. Hartley of northern California and Chaplain O. J. Nave of the Third United States infantry. Interesting addresses comprised order of the day.

Prominent Railway Official. Cincinnati, O., Nov. 17.—C. A. Parker, 46, second vice president of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad and vice president of the Pere Marquette road, died suddenly in his office in the Carew building here. The cause of his death is thought to have been heart disease. He came to this city last month from Denver, Colo. He was vice president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company at Denver.

Dick May Remain. Columbus, O., Nov. 17.—Republican leaders are of the opinion that Senator Charles Dick will manage Governor Herriek's campaign. It is said that the governor has requested Chairman Dick to remain at the helm next year. State Senator W. S. Harris is mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, but Mr. Harris himself gives the movement no encouragement.

Dynamite Exploded. Wellston, O., Nov. 17.—A terrible explosion occurred at Oregon, near here. In which P. J. Boyce was killed and William Artis, W. O. Ellis, William Wiseman and Noah Stout injured. The men were at work blasting in the limestone quarry, when an explosion of the dynamite with which they were working took place. Artis and Ellis are dangerously injured.

Died Abroad. Toledo, O., Nov. 17.—A cablegram received here, by M. L. Mozier announced the death of his father, A. M. Mozier, superintendent of transportation of the Erie railroad, who has been traveling in Europe for his health. Mr. Mozier died in England. His remains will be brought to this country and will be interred at Mt. Gilead, O.

OBITUARY

GEORGE JEWELL.

George J. Jewell, who died at the County Infirmary on Sunday, November 6, 1904, was a young man, being only 24 years of age, and his death is sincerely mourned by many friends. Bereft of his parents and home he made a noble life struggle, though his pathway through life was strewn with many thorns in a parental form, both parents having lost their minds, left him, a mere child to the mercy of a charitable institution, his health being poor from the time he had grown to manhood. He was generous and kind, ever ready to lend a helping hand to the sick and the afflicted, when called, be it day or night. His ambition always was to build up the downcast and distressed. His associates in life began with confidence in him, which soon grew to friendship, and ripened into genuine affection. His kindness and sympathy and his sincerity inevitably became apparent to all who came in contact with him, with the result that his personal character had a softening influence upon those about him. He was loved for his worth.

We as his friends, are very thankful to Mr. Harter and his estimable wife, and also to those who attended his wants, for their untiring vigilance in supplying his every want during his protracted illness. A friend and inmate.

LAURENCE PRIOR.

The funeral of the late Laurence Prior has been postponed until Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in order that his daughter, Miss Julia Prior who is now on her road to Newark from Colorado Springs, may arrive in time for the obsequies.

The funeral will take place from the St. Francis de Sales church of which the deceased was an honored and esteemed member, the interment being made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lugenbeal of 65 Riley street wish to extend their thanks to the neighbors and friends who so kindly rendered assistance during the sickness and death of their little son.

OHIO MAN

Desired to Know More About the Lady Before He "Put Up" For the Round Trip.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 17.—Henry F. Curran, proprietor of a matrimonial bureau, at 1242 Walsh avenue, was fined $100 and costs by Justice Caverly. Besides the fine imposed the police justice ordered that the literature taken in the raid be confiscated.

"Do you run a matrimonial bureau?" asked Justice Caverly when Curran was arraigned.

"Sure, and it is a straight one," replied Curran.

"This Court does not countenance such ventures," said Justice Caverly, "and I will fine you $100. A higher court might not affirm my decision."

Among the letters confiscated was one from an Ohio man as follows: "Selo, Harrison County, Ohio.

"November 13, 1904.

"Mr. Curran—Sir: Yours of the 9th received. In answer to the lady I would like to know the exact weight and height, and also if I should be pleased and suited I would willingly pay half expenses for round trip, but if not pleased or suited I do not care to do so. Hoping to hear from you before I shall address the lady, yours etc.,

"SAMUEL E. PLEY."

Thanksgiving Day Game.

Word comes from Delaware that Coach Place is devoting his entire attention to developing the defense of Ohio Wesleyan that Denison's attack can be effectually stopped. There will be a contest worth going a long distance to see on Thanksgiving day at the Y. M. C. athletic field, as both the teams have prepared for the best in their repertoire.

If there is the slightest doubt in the mind of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time. It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide. Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

STORK TIME

to most women is a term of anxiety, serious thought and sweet anticipation. With the cessation of pain necessary to childbirth, there comes calm nerves, sleep and recuperation.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

does diminish the pain accompanying maternity. With its aid mothers can and do bring healthy, sweet dispositioned and ideal babies into the world.

Morning sickness, sore breasts and expanding pains caused by the gradually penetrating and relaxing liniment. Among the manifold aids to childbirth, Mother's Friend has grown in popularity and gained a prestige among rich women as well as poor; it is found and welcomed in the mansion as well as in the cabin.

By lessening the mother's agony of mind and diminishing pain a beautiful influence is wrought upon the child, and instead of peevish, ill-tempered and sickly forms you have healthy, laughing humanity, remaining a blessing ever to you and its country.

Young Hackenschmidt, Promising Wrestler—Kiser Now an Auto Racer.

Young Hackenschmidt, who has named himself after Hackenschmidt, "the Russian Lion," is the latest aspirant for wrestling honors in this country.

Hackenschmidt is a sturdy young native of Bavaria who recently came to this country, firmly believing that he could quickly win fame and fortune. His ambitions have received several setbacks, but his knowledge of American methods is increasing, and many experts opine that in a very short time he will rise to the top of the welterweight division.

Hackenschmidt recently met the lightweight champion, George Bothner, in a handicap contest. The Bavarian was to throw Bothner twice in an hour. Although he failed to defeat the wonderful lightweight, the foreigner made a wonderful showing. Bothner is easily the most versatile and most elusive wrestler America or any other country has ever produced, and young Hackenschmidt was only prevented from throwing Bothner because of the latter's great knowledge of escaping from difficult situations.

Barney Oldfield, whose fearless driving of an automobile at racing speed won him premier honors, has a rival for his crown in Earl Kiser, the former bicycle rider, who eclipsed Barney Oldfield's one mile automobile record when he drove his famous Bullet a mile in 52.45 seconds. Kiser is convinced that he can still reduce these figures at least to 50 seconds flat.

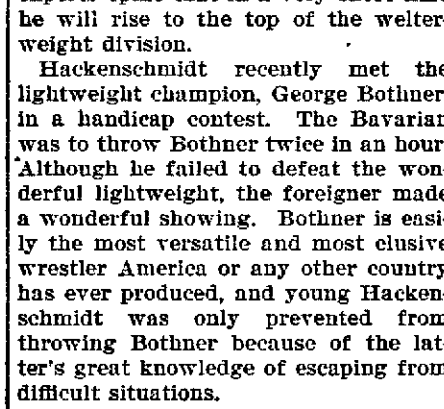

The battle for supremacy between these daredevil drivers has been keen and interesting, and while Kiser now holds the present record it is his ambition to place it still lower, where it is more likely to remain despite Barney Oldfield's coming attempts to wipe it out.

Just how fast he can send his powerful car, which already has many world's records to its credit, is yet to be determined.

Kiser has equaled even Henry Fourrier's reputation for recklessness, and there is no limit to the speed he will reach so long as his machine "stands the racket."

Kiser will race at the Florida meets during the winter.

Young Corbett and "Battling" Nelson are training for their fight in San Francisco. A year ago Corbett would have been a big favorite over any other fighter in his class. Corbett is as good now as he was when he met Britt or better. In spite of that fact whatever betting there is on the fight is at even money. Frisco sporting men say that Nelson may possibly even be favorite at the ringside. This Nelson boy has been coming strong, but it is

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Bernard Shaw's latest play will be called "John Bull's Other Island" and will attempt to give the stage the real Irishman. It is to be produced at the Court theater, London.

Edward Terry, the actor and owner of Terry theater, London, is engaged to marry Lady Harris, the widow of Sir Augustus Harris, says a special dispatch from London.

Young Mlle. Germaine Rejane, who has accompanied her mother to this country, says she will never, no, never, be an actress. It is an interesting fact that she made her only stage appearance in this country.

A new prima donna, Miss Martha Carline, is seen in the production of "The Cingalee" by J. C. Duff's company at Daly's theater, New York. Miss Carline is an American girl who has studied in Paris for several years.

Elsie De Wolfe has returned from Europe after a trip which began in the early spring. She has a play called "The Massarenes," by Ouida, which Paul Kester is to dramatize. She has several others in reserve, including one by Brieux.

Lillian Russell signed a contract with Sam S. Shubert, by the terms of which she is to star under the Shubert management for five years, beginning next December. Miss Russell's initial vehicle will be an operatic version of "The School for Scandal."

HORSES AND HORSEMEN.

Isotta, 2:13 1/2, retires for the season unbeaten. There are few like her.

The Roman has been second in many fast heats this year, but has not won one.

Snyder McGregor's new record is 2:07 1/2. He is among the big winners of the year.

John Mae, 2:09 1/2, has been another severe disappointment for Geers. He has won but one race for him.

Stanley Dillon's 2:07 1/2 is still high water mark for the year for a green trotter and bids fair to stay so.

The gray mare Ruth C. goes into winter quarters without a record. She has won quite a bunch of money too.

Adara, the fast daughter of Advertiser, 2:15 1/2, reduced her record to 2:16 1/2 in a fifth heat over the Wheeling (W. Va.) half mile track.

Two pacers are now tied for the world's record for a seventh heat, 2:07 1/2—Baron Grattan and King Direct. Geers drove them both.

Margrave, three years old, the superb roan son of Baron Wilkes, 2:18, owned by the Flemings of Terre Haute, has nine new performers and stands second for the season to Allerton only.

SHORT STORIES.

This is the way an Indian in Washington county, Me., sizes up the game laws: "Kill man, too bad; kill cow moose, pay $500."

The youngest baby on record near Kaukauna, Wis., in possession of teeth is a boy born with a tooth to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hastings.

Thomaston, Me., claims the youngest sewing club in the state—that is, the youngest in the point of the members' ages. It is composed of little girls of seven years, and they have planned a winter's campaign of fancy sewing.

There is an odd combination of pets in the Biddeford (Me.) greenhouse of Charles S. Strout in a woodcock and a cat. They live in perfect peace, the woodcock growing fat on the worms in the rich earth and the cat keeping the place free from mice.

William Laddy of Addison, Vt., placed in the spring one bushel of potatoes on the ground and covered them with two feet of hay. This fall he removed the covering and got twelve bushels of very fine large potatoes grown without planting, hoeing or digging.

Alleged Green Goods Men.

New York, Nov. 17.—Five men who were charged with being "green goods" men were arrested in Brooklyn. Postoffice Inspector Boyle, who brought about the arrests, is of the opinion that the prisoners are the most daring operators with whom the secret service officers have had to deal in years, and their method of working made detection especially difficult.

Fairbanks in Ohio.

Indianapolis, Nov. 17.—Senator and Mrs. Fairbanks left here for Springfield, O., where the vice president-elect will visit his mother this evening, leaving on the following day for New Haven for the Yale-Harvard football game. Senator Fairbanks will reach New York Saturday. He said that he might not return west until after the next session of congress had been called.

Represent the German Army.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Baron Sternburg, the German ambassador, presented to the president at the White House General Von Lowenfeld and Major Count Schmittow, the German officers who have arrived here to represent the German army at the unveiling of the statue of Frederick the Great. The presentation took place in the blue room.

Town Razed by Flames.

Clarksdale, Miss., Nov. 17.—The entire business district of the town of Dublin, on the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad, with the exception of one building, was wiped out by fire. The loss is estimated at $50,000, with partial insurance.

Shot an Attendant.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 17.—While George Gould was shooting birds near High Point, this state, he accidentally shot Edward Burns, an attendant. Several shot entered Burns' eye. A specialist of Greensboro says there is small chance of saving the eye. Gould at once sent the man to eminent oculists at New York.

An Interrupted Soliloquy

By KEITH GORDON

Copyright, 1904, by Frances Wilson

"Ugh!" breathed Louise Rainor in disgust as she rubbed away viciously at the glove on her shapely hand. "How I loathe and despise poverty! I actually believe I shed the odor of gasoline just as Madge Carr does the odor of violets!"

"Economy! Economy! Economy!" she continued, punctuating her words with a pull at the fingers of the glove which she was now fastening upon a line where several others dangled in pathetic helplessness. "How I hate the word!"

Talking to oneself has always the advantage of affording relief to pent-up feelings without encountering opposition. So it may have been as much on account of the explosive quality of her thoughts as of the fluid she was using that Louise had selected the far end of the back lawn for her operations that morning.

The fence was high and almost concealed by a network of spring greenery. For a moment the girl forgot herself, lost in admiration of the scene about her—the great old trees under which three generations of Rainors had played and the velvet sward upon which a robin was hopping about in a businesslike search for food.

Then she sighed again, two ominous lines appearing on her smooth forehead.

A silk waist was plunged into its gasoline bath with an energy born of rebellion at things as they were.

"If I had a son," she burst out, carried far beyond the proper scope of maidenly meditations by the strength of her feelings, "I'd teach him from his youth up that money was the greatest thing in the world."

She paused in her work and glanced defiantly about. She ached to have somebody hear the shocking sentiment she was voicing, but the only living thing in sight was the robin, and he was intent upon his own affairs.

"I would," she affirmed, as if her remark had met with protest. "It's all

THE COURTS

In the case of Ohio vs. Fred Youse the defendant, Thursday morning, entered a plea of guilty of assault and battery. This plea was accepted by the court, on motion of the prosecuting attorney. Sentence was deferred. Fitzgibbons; Daugherty, Smythe & Smythe.

Youse was jointly indicted with Hershel Montgomery for assaulting Eugene Leas in April last near Everett's glass works. Montgomery's case has not yet been disposed of, but it was stated by the prosecutor that the same would be mollified.

The case of Ohio vs. Charles Reynolds is on trial to the jury. He is charged with cutting with intent to wound Robert E. Davis. Fitzgibbons; Smythe & Smythe.

May Be Taken to Probate.

The man Davis, who was arrested in Columbus and brought here to answer to the charge of stealing a horse belonging to Dr. Priest, the veterinary surgeon, is either insane or has been feigning insanity for several days. He has the appearance of going into fits and has on several occasions attempted to break up all the furniture within his reach. Should his actions continue he will probably be taken before the Probate court.

Petition to Sell Land.

A petition has been filed in the Probate court by John R. Shepherd, executor of the estate of R. F. Shepherd, to sell land.

Real Estate Transfers.

Edward W. Crayton and John C. Kreig and wife to Charles H. Swank, lots 129 and 130 in the Newark Real Estate and Improvement company's Idlewild addition to Newark, $700.

John P. Jones and wife and Caroline Jones, part of lot 32 in Newark, $3439.

Marriage Licenses.

Wm. H. Sturman, Hanover; Alice A. Romine, Toledo.

James B. Dougherty, New Berlin, O.; Jeanette R. Evans, Granville.

George B. Noble, Columbus; Sylvia Eloda Greenlee, Newark.

Court House Notes.

In the matter of the inventory and appraisalment of the partnership of Harrison and Brother, exceptions to the inventory have been filed in the Probate court.

In the case of John Watkins, administrator of the estate of Edward Watkins against Hannah Watkins, widow, and others, the plaintiff has filed a petition in the Probate court asking that the dower of Hannah Watkins be assigned and set off to her, and that he may be authorized and ordered to sell property.

Yo Old Country Tea Party at St. Paul's Lutheran church this evening.

The fiddlers will fiddle, the harpers will harp and the singers sing and everybody will have a good time for sixpence, which means 12 cents. You are invited.

Some unseen auditor to contradict her statement.

"I don't blame him a bit!" were her next words, by which the reader will glean that she had made a long stride in tolerance. "I'd do the same thing myself. I'm going to, in fact. Old Mr. Masham's heart and money are mine for the taking, and I'll write him this very morning. What glorious times mamma and I will have when I'm mistress of that fortune—only I wish the poor old man would—"

"It doesn't make any difference. I hate poverty, and I'll never marry a poor man. Never!"

Such was her absorption that she failed to notice a tall youth who was coming across the lawn toward her. Seeing that he was unobserved, he came up behind her softly, just in time to catch her vehement declaration. His face reddened, and the surprise that he planned seemed suddenly unadvisable.

"Nobody asked you to, miss, he said," was his mocking retort. And Louise turned toward him with a start. "Odd habit of yours—talking to yourself," he added, somewhat sourly.

"It lightens one's domestic duties," was the lofty rejoinder. "Why didn't Miss Seymour run over with you?" she continued sweetly. "It would have given her a chance to see how 'the other half lives,' you know!"

"Hang Miss Seymour!" crossly.

"From the way you've been dancing attendance upon her!"

Lifted brows and a shrug completed the sentence, but it was apparent that Miss Rainor was highly scandalized. Then she became serious and sisterly.

"Really, Jack, you ought to think about the future—about posterity, you know. Think how important money is and what a golden opportunity you have!"

As she spoke his face became more and more gloomy. Strangely enough, her spirits seemed to rise as his sank.

"Hang posterity!" he growled.

"Mercy, what a vision you call up! Nothing but gibbets and dangling figures as far as the eye can see!" she laughed merrily. "But, seriously, you ought to think of my advice. Money is a very important thing."

There was a brief silence, during which he glared at her in moody indignation.

"Has old Masham spoken?" he asked at last with biting sarcasm. "Oh, I have sense enough to see that I'm not waiting here," he continued without waiting for a reply. "I came to tell you something, but it scarcely seems worth while. I was answered before I had a chance to ask."

He jumped up and started off across the lawn with great strides. The girl watched him with wicker, exultant delight. Suddenly a swift change came over her face, and she called softly, "Jack!"

He turned and regarded her uncertainly, while she looked hurt and amazed. Then he slowly retraced his steps.

"I fancied you had something to tell me," she observed innocently.

"It wouldn't be worth while. You see, I am a poor man."

She clasped her hands behind her and looked him over speculatively, then she shook her head.

"No, I don't call you a poor man. You're big and strong and rather nice. Besides, you have the kind of blue eyes that I like."

She stopped for a moment, and then she finished softly:

"Old Mr. Masham is my idea of a poor man."

The "Born Fixer" at Work.

"Our clock stopped the other day," said a woman. "When I wound it the pendulum refused to swing. William told me to let it alone until he had time to fix it."

"One evening after dinner William took down the clock. He told the servant to bring him the kerosene oil can. He poured half the contents of the can down the back of the clock. Incidentally he ruined the tablecloth and his trousers. But I didn't mind that. It never pays to interfere with a born fixer when he's fixing something."

"After William had tinkered with the timepiece for an hour he decided to wait until the next night. When he had gone downtown next morning I took it to a clockmaker."

"Jimmie," he exclaimed, "who's been monkeying with this? To remedy the original trouble would have cost you 40 cents. Now you'll want a new face, since this one is soaked with oil. You're in for $4.50 all right!"

"I had the clock in its usual place when William came home to dinner. But he never seemed to notice it. Said he was going to a neighbor's that evening to help him fix his automobile."—New York Press.

Benny on the Kangaroo.

The kangaroo is an animal with four legs, but it only uses half of them at one time. This is because its front legs ain't of much account. What it does not have in front legs it makes up in hind legs. The reason why the kangaroo stands up straight like a man is that its tail is too heavy for it and kind of pulls its head up in the air. I have heard it said that if you cut off a kangaroo's tail the tail will grow another kangaroo, but the kangaroo can't grow another tail. Once there was a man who drew a kangaroo in a lottery. When he found he could not ride the animal he traded it for a bicycle, which is far more useful, and you do not have to feed it. Let us learn from this not to be cast down when obstacles rise before us on our pathway through life, and if we are good and obedient to our teachers we will succeed. The kangaroo does not walk, like a bird or a human being, but jumps. I would rather be a grizzly bear, which is content with peanuts and raw meat and sleeps through the long, dreary hours.—Chicago Tribune.

and even sympathize with the delicate position of France as Russia's ally.

Japanese Opinion.

Tokyo, Nov. 17.—The opinion is expressed here that the Russian torpedo-boat destroyer Rastoropy carried to Chefoo extended dispatches explaining to St. Petersburg the situation at Port Arthur, the condition of the Russian squadron and the shortage of food and ammunition, referring the question of further resistance to the Russian government. The nature of the Russian fire indicates a scarcity of certain kinds of ammunition. All prisoners taken by the Japanese tell a story of increasing hunger.

Free Passage Through Canal.

Suez, Nov. 17.—The governor summoned a meeting of the consuls and asked them to inform shipping agents that during the passage through the canal of the Russian second Pacific squadron all vessels proceeding northward will be stopped, allowing the Russian warships free passage, and that all vessels must stringently be ordered to refrain from throwing anything into the canal while the warships are passing and from engaging in demonstrations of any sort.

Reinforcements Arriving.

Mukden, Nov. 17.—It has been generally quiet along the Russian line, varied by occasional artillery exchanges. There have been fewer skirmishes for some days past. Reinforcements continue to arrive, and one whole regiment was received in a single day. There is reason to believe that important developments will transpire shortly, and that possibly there will be heavy fighting.

Inspected the Wreck.

Chefoo, Nov. 17.—Three Japanese torpedo-boat destroyers entered the harbor, satisfied themselves that the Russian torpedo-boat destroyer Rastoropy had been sunk, and departed.

Jap Destroyers Sighted.

Chefoo, Nov. 17.—Two Japanese torpedo-boat destroyers were seen at the mouth of the harbor, and their presence undoubtedly precipitated the action of the Russians in blowing up the Rastoropy. The explosion was so subdued and the crew remained so quiet that it was some time before the report of the affair became current. The Japanese consul says that nine of the Russian crew came ashore with their rifles, against which action he has protested to the port authorities.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

makes pale, thin children fat and chubby. Overcomes wasting tendencies and brings back rosy cheeks and bright eyes.

It's surprising how quickly children respond to Scott's Emulsion. It contains just the element of nourishment their little bodies need. They thrive on it.

Even a few drops in the baby's bottle have a noticeable effect for good. Nothing better than Scott's Emulsion for growing children.

Why do substitutes for Scott's Emulsion cost less? Because they're worth less. With one you wait in vain for the benefits you had looked for. In Scott's Emulsion you get them. It never disappoints. That's worth the few cents difference in cost.

COLUMBUS

Police are Unable to Cope With the Epidemic of Burglaries in the Capital City.

Columbus, O., Nov. 17.—Reports of half a dozen more burglaries were made to the police yesterday. Ten days ago 18 burglaries were reported for one night. A few were reported for each night succeeding until the end of last week when the police thought they had the situation well in hand. Over a score of suspicious persons had been arrested and most of them sent to the workhouse. Reports of additional burglaries came as a surprise. Police Chief O'Connor says the department cannot get along with the present small force. He says that Dayton, only about two-thirds as large as Columbus, has more patrolmen.

OHIO MAN

Married in New Jersey as the Result of a Romance Commenced in South Africa.

Elmer, N. J., Nov. 17.—Rev. Robert Emory Beetham, of New Concord, O., and Miss Harriet Elwell Johnson were married yesterday afternoon in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sara N. Johnson, of this place.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. Hartzel, Methodist Bishop of Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. Beetham will reside in New Concord, where Mr. Beetham is filling a Methodist charge.

The courtship leading up to the ceremony began in South Africa. Miss Johnson was assigned to kindergarten work and musical instruction in an institution in New Umtali, Rhodesia, South Africa. Two weeks after her arrival Mr. Beetham came to take charge of the school as principal.

RACED

With Death in a Special Car, to Save Her Boy From a Suicide's Grave.

Elkhart, Ind., Nov. 17.—Mrs. C. F. Rexinger, wife of a veteran Lake Shore conductor, was provided with a special car attached to Train No. 43, to carry her to Chicago in time to dissuade her son, Merritt Jacobson, from committing suicide, he having wired her his intention to end his life. No. 43 does not carry passengers, being a mail train.

One hour before the mother arrived, young Jacobson fired a bullet into his lungs, injuring it for his heart. A message received late last evening from the mother says that his chances of recovery are remote.

Jacobson was employed in the Lake Shore shops at Englewood, but until recently he had lived here. The act of the railroad company in providing Mrs. Rexinger with a special car established a precedent. It was done as a mark of respect for her husband, and for her late father, Wm. Chatterdon, who was one of the oldest and best known engineers on the road. Mrs. Rexinger was accompanied by her niece, Miss Mary Ingles.

SENSELESS

Are Many Funeral Customs, Said an Undertaker, in Arranging His Own Burial.

Elkhart, Ind., Nov. 17.—Henry E. Stephens, who for 30 years has been an undertaker in Elkhart, has given unique instructions to his wife regarding the manner in which his funeral shall be conducted when he dies. Late in the afternoon or evening he would have his relatives and intimate friends gather at his house and there he would have them listen to a short discourse by some sympathetic friend or pastor, who can dwell justly on any such virtue as he may have had when living and who can deliver a message of condolence for the present and hope for the future to those who are to follow after.

On the morning after when all the stir and confusion of the funeral are over he would have his body laid at rest. He prohibits his body being taken to a church.

He says these views are the result of deep thought on the subject of death and long observation gained through his professional experiences. He believes that there are many customs now followed at funeral that are utterly senseless.

COLONEL HILL

When Asked About the Recent Election in Ohio Said It's a Closed Incident.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The Star prints the following:

"There comes Colonel Ike Hill, just back from Licking county," remarked a group on the corner as a dignified looking personage with a big quiff of fine cut in his left cheek came strolling down the avenue. "You can bet there is one untried Democrat, anyhow."

Colonel Ike approached. He looks somewhat apprehensive as he recognizes the bunch, perhaps fearing a "jolly."

"Well, what struck you all out in Ohio," he was asked.

"Sir," replied the Colonel, with dignity, "it is a closed incident. I decline to discuss it."

NATURAL GAS

INTERVIEW WITH FRIEND OF THE HEISEY COMPANY.

Reasons Given Why This Company Should be Given a Franchise in City of Newark.

In reference to the Heisey natural gas franchise which has caused considerable talk in this city, and feeling that the people of this town should know as much on this subject as could be obtained, a reporter of the Advocate today saw a man who is closely identified with the A. H. Heisey & Company interests in this matter. This gentleman made this statement: "I don't see why those councilmen who voted to give a franchise to The Newark Gas Light and Coke company of 25 cents per thousand cubic feet, should oppose a similar proposition of A. H. Heisey & Company. A. H. Heisey & Company have done far more for the city of Newark in the past, and is doing more in the present and will do more in the future than has ever the Gas Light and Coke company. Therefore, it seems to me that Mr. Heisey should be treated with a good deal more consideration than this other company, and if, as was stated at the time, the franchise to the Gas Light and Coke company was passed, that the council wanted to see competition in natural gas that that argument would be far more potent now than it was when the proposition of the Coke company was before that body. Mr. Heisey has gas and he has abundant gas territory. The Gas Light and Coke company has neither and yet they were granted a franchise on practically the same conditions that are set forth in the franchise now pending before the city council.

The people of this city may not be aware of this fact, but it is true nevertheless, that Mr. Heisey has already saved the consumers of natural gas in this city 25 per cent on their gas bills for this year. The old company had made their arrangement to raise the price of natural gas to 25 cents per thousand cubic feet, and that would be the price charged at this time were it not for the action of Mr. Heisey asking a franchise from the council. So it can be seen that Mr. Heisey has already done a great service to the people of this city.

Again, the natural gas business like every other commercial enterprise, should be looked at in a business light, and that is exactly the way that Mr. Heisey looks at it. He knows very well that the gas consumers in this city whose house is equipped with service pipes and other appliances of the old company, will not buy his gas from him unless he can make it worth while to the consumers. In other words, he will have to offer inducements to the people already using gas in order to get their business; otherwise, they will continue to purchase gas from the old company. That is the plain business situation and it ought to appeal strongly to the people of this city.

In regard to the franchise granted but a few months ago to The Newark Gas Light and Coke company every one acquainted with the situation knows that the Gas Light and Coke company never had any gas, did not expect to get any and have now entered into a contract to purchase their gas directly from the old company. What sort of competition will this give the people of this city?

Now, in regard to the franchise introduced by Mr. Heisey, it was presented to the city council on last Monday night. No effort was made to railroad it through such as was done in reference to the Gas Light and Coke company ordinance. It was asked by the Heisey company to be referred to a committee so that the city council and the company could consider the situation and decide whether or not they could get together on a franchise satisfactory to both. That is what Mr. Heisey now asks. If a franchise satisfactory in its nature can be agreed upon between the city and Mr. Heisey the matter will have to be dropped entirely. There are other cities and villages close by which the Heisey company can sell their gas to, and from which they have already received propositions that will enable them to dispose of all their surplus gas at the wells.

Now, it is up to the people through the council to say whether or not they want competition of a real nature in natural gas in this city.

Of Steeple of Second Presbyterian Church, Mr. Parker Climbed on Thursday Morning.

C. A. Parker, a noted steeple climber of Columbus, who has been assisting Messrs. Klecker & Hurlbath of this city, in the painting of the Second Presbyterian church, performed a most daring feat on Thursday by climbing to the top of the tall steeple, a distance of over 200 feet from the ground, and standing on the galls at the extreme top of the steeple and having his picture taken by Photographer Smith. Parker first climbed to the top of the steeple on the brackets, taking his tackle with him. His feat was witnessed with trepidation by quite a number of people.

AMUSEMENTS

DOWN ON THE FARM FAILED TO APPEAR.

Wang Sure of a Big House Tomorrow Night—Roanoke Tuesday—Other Attractions.

The opening entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. course given by the Redpath Recital company, will be tonight's attraction at Taylor Hall. A big crowd is assured.

For some reason unknown to the management of the Auditorium the "Down on the Farm" company failed to appear. Managers Johnson & Mat thews have received no message from the company's manager giving an explanation of the company's failure to visit Newark. The company would have had a good sized audience Wednesday night.

PACKED HOUSE ASSURED.

The first day's sale of seats for the engagement of De Wolf Hopper and his opera company in the Messrs. Shubert's Lyric theatre revival of Wang, at the Auditorium tomorrow night opened yesterday, and the demand for spaces was beyond the highest expectations of the management. Mr. Hopper's tour in his most famous character has been exceptionally successful. The attraction enjoys the distinction of having proved one of New York's best musical offerings last season, it having played to large audiences nearly half the theatre year at the Lyric theatre, Gotham's most fashionable playhouse. Wang is assured of a packed house. Very few seats remain unsold.

DE WOLF HOPPER.

"ROANOKE."

A pleasant surprise is in store for the patrons of the Auditorium Tuesday, Nov. 22, when the new drama, "Roanoke," a story of Old Virginia, will play an engagement of one night. The management will carry the entire production, using all new scenery and the latest mechanical and electrical effects for the five acts.

The cast is composed of artists well known in the profession every man, woman and child engaged is a finished actor, which will enable the company to give one of the most finished and complete performances offered this season in the way of drama.

DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE.

This play has become so well known through successive performances that any reference to its character seems almost superfluous. In the parlance of the theatrical folk, it is the best "repeater" of any play of modern times. It goes to the same cities year after year, and the business it does seems to increase with every succeeding engagement. The play has made several fortunes and the end is not yet. It is the sort of play that appeals to all classes of theatre goers. This attraction will be at the Auditorium Thursday, Nov. 24, matinee and night.

GOODWIN WILL COME.

Mr. Charles E. Matthews one of the managers of the Auditorium was in Columbus Wednesday night to see Nat Goodwin in "The Usurper," at the Great Southern. While there he made arrangements with the eminent comedian's manager for Goodwin's appearance at the local play house some time next March, the exact date not having been set as yet.

Fifty cent reserved seats are now on sale for the first gallery of Wang Friday night. Second gallery will be 25 cents, which will be on sale at the gallery entrance night of show.

Ye Old Country Tea Party at the St. Paul's Lutheran church this evening. The fiddlers will fiddle, the harpers will harp and the singers sing and everybody will have a good time for a sixpence, which means 12 cents. You are invited. 11-17-2t

WEDDINGS.

STURMAN-ROMINE.

William H. Sturman and Miss Alice A. Romine both well known young people of Hanover, this country, were married on Wednesday by Squire T. L. King.

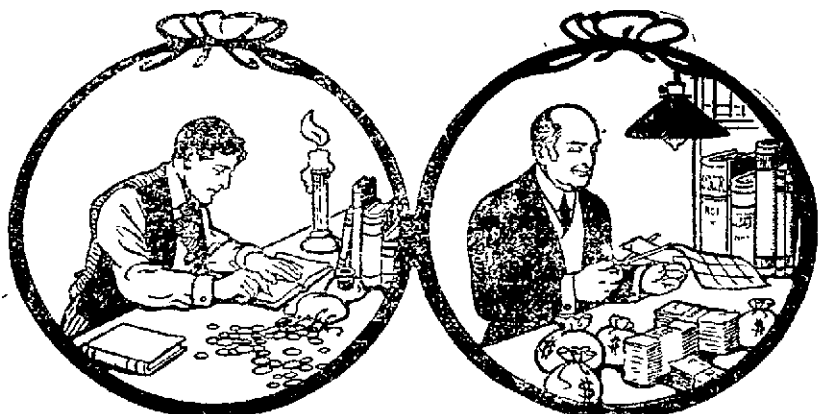

NOBLE-GREENLEA.

George B. Noble, a well known street car conductor of Columbus, and Miss Sylvia Greenlea, an estimable young woman of Newark, were married on Thursday morning. The ceremony took place at the parsonage of the First M. E. church on North Fifth street, and was performed by the Rev. L. C. Sparks at 10 o'clock. The newly wedded couple immediately left for Columbus where they will make their future home.

The Largest Growth

in Newark and Licking county, not the largest in stature is the proprietor, but the stock of Edison Records, Phonographs, Talking Machines and Disk Records. I have orders in for one or more of all Edison Records and will endeavor always to have in stock every selection, thus supplying all people wanting them. Phonographs and Talking Machines sold on easy payments or cash.

The Prosperous Merchant

is not prosperous through luck and chance. Shrewdness is the father of success.

Careful, economic methods are essential to commercial prosperity—especially in these days of close competition. And the merchant who slights any detail of his business is surely going to see the effects of his negligence immediately.

A large number of shrewd, successful business men are among our patrons—so large a number that it proves pretty conclusively that the treatment they receive at our hands is conducive to satisfaction. Promptness, accuracy and courteous in all our dealings—these are three of the qualities that render our institution the favorite with busy business men.

No delays, no trouble of any kind. Just the smooth-running machinery of a perfect banking system, operated by experienced bankers with unsurpassed facilities.

If we are not your bankers it's no fault of ours, but rather a misfortune you can easily remedy. Talk it over with us. Believe us, it's to your advantage.
